

Valparaiso University
810 Freeman Street
Valparaiso, IN 46383
Phone/fax 800.624.2526
office@alcm.org

Association of Lutheran Church Musicians

COMPOSITION GUIDELINES FOR POSTING ON THE ALCM WEB SITE

ALCM will post the unpublished musical compositions of its members to provide congregations with free, downloadable materials for worship. All pieces submitted will be reviewed on the basis of appropriateness and notational clarity. Members accessing the resources are the final arbiters of the quality of the materials. In order for a piece to be considered for posting, please email to office@alcm.org:

1. a PDF file of the composition with the appropriate copyright notice (see below) on the bottom of the first page; and
2. a TIF file for any assembly/congregation part.

All texts must be in the public domain or permission must be secured from the author/copyright holder. Scriptural and liturgical settings, original hymns, and organ and other instrumental works are welcomed. Special consideration will be given to unison, two-part, and SAB liturgical responses and anthems that will serve small church choirs and children's choirs well.

Copyright notices are:

For public domain texts or instrumental music:

Music copyright © [year] by [name]. All rights reserved.

Permission is granted to current members of the Association of Lutheran Church Musicians to reproduce this piece for use in worship & study provided that no part of the reproduction is for sale and copies are for one-time local use.

For original text and music:

Text and music copyright © [year] by [name]. All rights reserved.

Permission is granted to current members of the Association of Lutheran Church Musicians to reproduce this piece for use in worship & study provided that no part of the reproduction is for sale and copies are for one-time local use.

By submitting a work for consideration, you are automatically granting permission for ALCM to post it in the Members Area of the ALCM web site. If at any point you no longer wish to have ALCM post your work or if you decide to publish it, please notify the ALCM office at office@alcm.org or by phone at 800-624-2526.